Our Customers have created these tools!

Over the years, IMG has listened to the requests of its customers and interested parties and has created features and functions to address those needs. Using advanced technology and working with both experts and actual users, IMG has consistently been able to provide dependable, high-quality products at reasonable prices.
IMG continues to advance with technology and deliver the products that people want!

Innovation Management Group and Assistive Technology

IMG's products are recommended or offered by major pointing device manufacturers and resellers worldwide because of its commitment to quality and providing for the needs of its customers. Due to the high-reliability requirements of manufacturing and industrial environments, IMG has earned a reputation for rock-solid solutions. When IMG was made aware that its technology was in demand by individuals with special needs, a division was created to work with specialists in the field and respond to the requests of users and trainers. These products are the result of this collaboration.

OnScreen™ with CrossScanner™

CrossScanner has been integrated with Onscreen to provide scanning capabilities. Now a single switch can control all Windows functions & applications along with Onscreen's Keyboard & Word Prediction capabilities. If a user cannot work with a traditional pointing device such as a mouse, trackball, headmouse, sip/puff or joystick, switch scanning may be the best alternative.

Developed in conjunction with RJ Cooper & Associates. OnScreen / WordComplete / Action Panels / CrossScanner used under license.
